

N. L. Estrada – Media Kit

Short bio: A resident of Bellmore, New York, N. L. Estrada is a first-time novelist.

Medium bio: 'Maiden Hills' is N. L. Estrada's first book. It is a medieval thriller set in the 15th Century. N. L. is a resident of Bellmore, New York and having taken early retirement her days are now filled with the sound of a tapping keyboard as she seeks success as an author.

Long bio: Having built a successful career in finance, time seemed to get swallowed up, not allowing her ambitions as a writer to be fulfilled. When she took early retirement at last that time opened up.

'Maiden Hills' is the result of that change of focus. A medieval thriller with elements of fantasy, magic and action, charts the story of Queen Juliana who learns the secret of the people of Maiden Hills. A town decimated twenty-two years prior by her kingdom of Yorkford. When she learns that she has a link to the town and its survivors, she is torn between protecting her father's legacy and helping the magical people. Juliana's thoughtful journey is at the core of N. L.'s debut novel.

The book is being published by 3P Publishing, a British company, and will hit the shelves in August 2020. Having got the taste for writing N. L. is now working on book two, a follow-up to 'Maiden Hills'.

When she's not writing N. L. loves reading, gardening, and traveling. You could say her life is consumed by stories and the telling of stories. She's also a Star Wars fan and sees some parallels with one of the book's characters in Luke Skywalker. Will 'Maiden Hills' go on to replicate the success of the Star Wars universe? Only time will tell.

Nancy can be found on Facebook at www.facebook.com/NancyEstradaAuthor/

On Twitter at www.twitter.com/nan129

And on Instagram at <https://www.instagram.com/nancy.estrada.31542/>